

American Film Director Peter Byck Visits Belfast

21 March 2012

Belfast, NORTHERN IRELAND: Peter Byck, an American film director from Louisville, Kentucky visited Belfast to meet with public and private sector officials to discuss and answer questions on his latest film “Carbon Nation”.

Peter Byck in discussion with officials on film “Carbon Nation”

Dr Christopher Stange - Hon. Consul for St. Vincent and the Grenadines to Northern Ireland was honoured to attend with his interest in geothermal and sustainable energy sources for developing countries.

The meeting was facilitated by Professor Sue Christie OBE – Chief Executive Northern Ireland Environment Link, sponsored by US Deputy Consul General (Ag.) Penny Wilkinson and was held at the American Consulate General.

Carbon Nation is a documentary film about technological (wind, solar, geothermal) and community-based energy solutions to the growing worldwide carbon footprint. Carbon Nation presents a series of ways in which the 16 Terrawatts (TW) of energy the world consumes can be met while reducing or eliminating carbon-based sources. It contains interviews with experts, business, CEOs, and sustainable energy supporters, demonstrating in action what is being done on the ground.

ENDS