

Queen's University - McClay Library Staff "Takes a Step" for Fairtrade

08 March 2013

Belfast, NORTHERN IRELAND: Staff of the McClay Library (Library, Information Service & IT) along with Green Champions at Queen's University are supporting Fairtrade Fortnight (25 February - 10 March 2013), through a Fairtrade coffee morning in the library auditorium.

A selection of Fairtrade beverages and snacks were provided.

Dr Christopher Stange, Chair of the Fairtrade Belfast Committee and Hon. Consul of St. Vincent and the Grenadines to Northern Ireland, was the guest speaker at the event. He provided a presentation on Fairtrade in Northern Ireland, detailing Fairtrade as a mechanism in alleviating poverty in the developing world, as well as, his personal experience and business case studies.

Dr Christopher Stange and Green Champions (L – R):
Christine Carrothers; Siobhan Gunn; Dr Christopher Stange;
Suzy Murray; Jill Shaw; Evelyn Dougal (Student Assistant)

L – R: Jim Cunningham – QUB Asst. Director of IT
Systems & Services; Dr Christopher Stange; John
Gormley – QUB Director of Information Services

"Take a Step" for Fairtrade in 2013 and support Queen's University's commitment to Fairtrade.

ENDS